Gromit Unleashed Hong Kong Gromit's Adventure with his Moon 60" tall large sculpture, by Jimmy Liao. A collaboration between Aardman Animations and Elements Mall; he was part of the only exhibition of decorated sculptures in Asia, comprising seventy pieces decorated by over sixty artists, illustrators, fashion designers and musicians. At the end of the exhibition the sculptures were auctioned off to raise funds for "Art in Hospital" 1994. Artist Jimmy Liao states, "This work follows one of my classic books, When the Moon Forgot. Touched by the friendship between the boy and the moon, Gromit decides to wear deep blue clothes like the boy, and explores the world's day and night with his moon. Friendship makes this an even more exciting adventure!" Description: Large hollow plastic Gromit, holding "moon" between his ears, body covered with blue velveteen fabric, some discolouration to fabric in places and fabric is loosening slightly from body at some seams. With brass plaque and original auction catalogue. Height: 60"/153cm Length: 49"/125cm Width: 37"/96cm (Collection from our premises in Stockton-On-Tees)
